Important Information for Your Charity

New and Future Activities

The Charity is registered based on the purpose(s) found in its governing document and activities described in its application for registration. If the Charity carries out new activities that are not charitable, or that are beyond the objects for which it was originally registered, it will risk losing its registered status.

You should contact us if the Charity wants to carry on new programs and activities that are different from those previously approved by us. You should provide us with a detailed description of the proposed activity or program so that we may determine if it is acceptable. For more information, contact our Client Service Section.

Tax Shelters

The CRA has serious concerns about abusive tax shelter gifting arrangements and cautions registered charities about becoming involved in such schemes. A tax shelter gifting arrangement typically promises participants tax savings greater than their cost to participate, thus allowing participants to “profit” when donating the tax shelter property to a charity.

While certain tax shelter arrangements may be legitimate, we intend to audit most or all that involve charitable gifts. To date these audits have resulted in the reassessment of thousands of participants and billions of dollars.

Registered charities that are found to have knowingly exploited their tax-receipting privileges by participating in abusive or fraudulent tax shelter gifting arrangements, or that fail to devote their resources to legitimate charitable activities, will be subject to significant monetary penalties and/or the revocation of their registered charitable status. Registered charities and their directors may also be subject to third party civil penalties for their involvement in gifting arrangements.

Additional information about tax shelter gifting arrangements can be found on our Web pages at www.cra.gc.ca/taxshelters.
